Promoting Financial Health and Resiliency for People with Disabilities and Their Families During the COVID-19 Pandemic

The novel coronavirus, or COVID-19 pandemic, has created uncertainty for Americans' physical, mental and financial health. During this time, we must be vigilant in promoting healthy habits and resiliency. The Center for Disability-Inclusive Community Development (CDICD), managed by National Disability Institute (NDI), has developed five strategies and resources to assist you in taking steps to maintain your financial health.

Assess Your Financial Health

Assessing your financial situation and creating a plan for your financial health is an important part of preparing for and managing through a crisis.

- Create or update a spending plan: catalog.fdic.gov/system/files/4 PG.pdf.
   Developing a spending plan assists in understanding your financial situation.
- Look closely at your expenses. Identify any items that can be eliminated during this crisis.
- ☐ Plan ahead and put together a weekly menu and food shopping list: nationaldisabilityinstitute.org/wp-content/ uploads/2020/03/menu-planning-andshopping-list-2020.pdf.
- □ Look at your bills and prioritize which to pay. Call about bills that cannot be prioritized and ask what your options are during this crisis: consumerfinance.gov/about-us/blog/ protect-yourself-financially-from-impactof-coronavirus/.

Find Community Resources

Municipalities and community-based organizations are working to meet the needs of the disability community during this time.

- 2-1-1 assists individuals who are looking for resources within their community: 211.org.
- Feeding America is the nation's largest domestic hunger relief organization.
   Locate a food bank in your area: feedingamerica.org/find-your-local-foodbank.
- ☐ The Disaster Distress Helpline is available 24 hours a day offering free support to people experiencing emotional distress: samhsa.gov/find-help/disaster-distress-helpline.
- ☐ The Administration on Community Living (ACL) has guidance for people with disabilities and caregivers, which includes connections to state and local resources at: acl.gov/COVID-19.

FRB, FDIC, OCC Issue Joint Statement on CRA Consideration for Activities in Response to COVID-19

Encourages financial institutions to meet the financial services needs of their customers and members

Working with Customers. Pursuant to the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA), the agencies will favorably consider retail banking services and retail lending activities in a financial institution's assessment areas that are responsive to the needs of low- and moderate-income individuals, small businesses, and small farms affected by COVID-19 and that are consistent with safe and sound banking practices. These activities may include, but are not limited to:

- Waiving certain fees, such as:
  - Automated teller machine (ATM) fees for customers and non-customers,
  - Overdraft fees,
  - Late payment fees on credit cards and other loans, and
  - Early withdrawal penalties on time deposits;
- Easing restrictions on cashing out-of-state and non-customer checks;
- Expanding the availability of other short-term, unsecured credit products for creditworthy borrowers;
- Increasing credit card limits for creditworthy borrowers;
- Providing alternative service options to customers in light of limited ability to access branches; and
- Offering payment accommodations, such as allowing borrowers to defer or skip payments or extending the payment due date, which would avoid delinquencies and negative credit bureau reporting, caused by COVID-19related issues.

FRB, FDIC, OCC Issue Joint Statement on CRA Consideration for Activities in Response to COVID-19, cont.

Community Development Activities: In light of the declaration of a national emergency, this statement clarifies that financial institutions will receive CRA consideration for community development activities.

Qualifying activities include those that help to revitalize or stabilize low- or moderate-income geographies as well as distressed or underserved non metropolitan middle-income geographies, and that support community services targeted to low- or moderate-income individuals. Such activities may include, but are not limited to:

- Loans, investments or services that support digital access for low- and moderate-income individuals or communities;
- Loans, investments or services that support access to health care, particularly for low- and moderateincome individuals or communities;
- Economic development activities that sustain small business operations, particularly in low- and moderate-income communities; and
- Investment or service activities that support provision of food supplies and services for low- and moderate-income individuals or communities.
